

DAUGHTERS HEAR MANY REPORTS

Progress of Efforts to Erect Monuments—Address by Major Brown.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Winston-Salem, N. C., October 27.—In the State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to-day Mrs. Thomas Craig, of Gastonia, proposed to contribute a State banner to the children as a trophy in the Children's Chapter work. Several minor amendments to the constitution were adopted. The president, Mrs. Williams, representative of the Shiloh Monument in the General United Daughters of the Confederacy, gave such a talk on the "battle of Shiloh" as to impress every person in the hall with the deepest reverence for those 10,000 men of the South who fell in that awful carnage.

Mrs. Williams ended her talk with the plea that the Daughters take "Arlington and Shiloh" for their watchword during the year.

The most interesting feature of the morning came when Major T. J. Brown was introduced to the assembly, and a striking figure he made, one of those unassuming men of the Southland, white of hair, courteous of manner and ever eloquent on the subject of the Lost Cause. Standing on the rostrum in his Confederate uniform, he unfurled an old flag, battle-stained and somewhat tattered, the flag of his regiment, the forty-second. The assembly rose in a body, and when the enthusiasm had quieted, the major told in simple and graphic language the story of this old emblem. So interested were his hearers that they forgot to sit down, and many remained standing far into the story.

He said the flag had been presented to his regiment by two women on the Chowan River, and it had been their injunction that it would never trail in the dust nor be dishonored. The men had kept the pledge to the letter, the major said, for a more reverent set of men could not have been found in the fighting lines, and it had been held sacred.

Mrs. H. A. London, of Pittsboro, moved a rising vote of thanks to Major Brown, which was heartily carried.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, being called upon to speak of the Arlington monument, said in part that she was chairman of the committee on design, which design was now in the hands of the sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, of Richmond. This sculptor is now in Italy at work on the monument, and the women had felt that they were placing the contract wisely in giving it to him, since his hear was in the work. Having been a cadet in the Virginia Military Institute at the beginning of the war, he had fought in the battle of New Market, and had since represented the State of Virginia with a monument commemorating that victory. He had also presented a beautiful monument to the University of Virginia. Since the sculptor was in Italy he has been knighted by some of the European rulers for the excellence of his work, and with it all he has the mind and spirit of the Confederate soldier, so the committee is assured of a beautiful and fitting memorial. The monument, set to cost $50,000, is to be completed in two years, and there yet remains $25,000 to be raised.

Mrs. Stone said that Arlington Cemetery, being situated near the national capital, is an objective point to every visitor. All peoples and nations of the world are represented in Washington, and the space set apart for the South has no monument. Shall the world think we are not proud of our dead? she asked, declaring that the first soldier buried there was a Confederate and a North Carolinian from Lincoln county, even though this is a Federal cemetery. "We must have memorials," she said, "Shiloh and other places must have monuments, yet surely Arlington comes first," she concluded.

Miss Margaret Etherage, of Selma, gave a report of the Henry Wyatt committee, and Mrs. Heatt, of Raleigh, invited the Daughters to the unveiling on the Capitol square at an early date. The Chapel Hill monument committee report was read by Mrs. H. A. London. This is in memory of the boys who in '61 dropped their books to take part in the war. The university alumni have pledged $5,000, the United Daughters of the Confederacy $1,500, and $1,000 is still lacking. Upon adjournment the members of the convention were guests of the James B. Gordon Chapter at luncheon, in the Board of Trade rooms, and at 4 o'clock this afternoon the convention tendered a very enjoyable complimentary reception at Salem College.

Two Sheriffs and Score of Deputies Searching for Assailant of White Woman.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Roanoke, Va., October 27.—The sheriffs of Pulaski and Wythe counties, accompanied by a score of deputies, have been scouring the country all last night and to-day searching for a white man, who attempted to commit an assault upon Mrs. E. W. Harkrader, wife of the Norfolk and Western station agent at Barren Springs. The attempt was committed last night at 8 o'clock, while Mr. Harkrader was at the station. The man, who was a black, went into the house and walked up behind Mrs. Harkrader and attacked her. The man was frightened away by Mrs. Harkrader's screams.

When Mr. Harkrader returned to his home he found his wife prostrated from exertion and fright. Mr. Harkrader immediately gave an alarm, and neighbors and officers soon gathered, and took up the trail of the man. Evidently fearing that bloody hands would be used, he dropped a trail of red pepper, or some other powder, with a view of breaking up the dogs, should they be sent after him.

The officers who are after the man have an idea who he is, although the name is not mentioned. Mr. Harkrader lives about a half-mile from Barren Springs.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY EXPLOSION OF POWDER
Henderson, N. C., October 27.—B. F. Rowland, connected with the Watkins Hardware Company, came near losing his life yesterday while attempting to test three kegs of defective powder out of the corporate limits, which was damaged by two of them, but the third and last one ignited from concussion from the hammer and all exploded, setting his clothes afire and severely burning his body and limbs. While his sufferings are intense, his condition is not considered dangerous.

Engagement Announced.
Raleigh, N. C., October 27.—A delightful buffet luncheon yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. D. Boushall was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of her sister, Miss Pearl Chadwick Heck, and William Alexander Graham Clark, son of Chief Justice Walter Clark, the marriage to take place December 6. There were thirty guests, and the wedding of the bride at a signal between courses brought the shower of notes from a bell suspended over the table.

ROADS ALLOWED TO CHANGE RATES

Application of Southern Lines Acted Upon by Interstate Commission.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Washington, D. C., October 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission to-day granted a number of applications filed by railroads in the South for certain changes in shipping tariffs, which are of interest to that section. The application of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway to put Greenville, S. C., on an equal basis with Anderson and Chester, S. C., in the manufacture of jeans and overalls was favorably acted upon. Likewise was the application of the Southern Railroad for the transportation of all ginger ale, root beer and similar products from Alexandria, Va., to Johnson City, Tenn., favorably passed upon. It is proposed to extend to Johnson City the same rates as are now in effect to Carolina territory, which are 5 cents higher than rates from Virginia cities.

The establishment of rates on agricultural implements from Richmond, South Richmond, Lynchburg, Roanoke and other cities in Virginia to points in Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and Tennessee to give shippers in Virginia cities rates on mixed cargoes, was also authorized. Sumner, S. C., will hereafter be placed on an equal basis with Rock Hill, S. C., in the shipment of buggies, wagons, carriages and other vehicles. The vehicle plant recently located at Henderson, N. C., has been moved to Sumner, and it is proposed to put the latter place in competition with Rock Hill.

BAN ON SHAKESPEARE.

Youthful Critics Prefer the Writings of Shaw and Ibsen.

Chicago, October 27.—Shakespeare has been rejected as "illegitimate, un-filial, un-literary, lights of the Hammon High School, and they are having support of their teachers to have the author of "The Taming of the Shrew," "Venus and Adonis" and "Pericles" banished from the curriculum.

Leobon Amos, representing the chief literary societies of the school, in presenting the demand for the faculty, characterized "The Bard of Avon" as "a cheap grandstand player," "an immoralist" and several other similarly descriptive titles, and asked that Ibsen and Shaw be the standard toward which the youthful mind be taught to aim.

AGREE ON UNIFORM RATES FOR FOREIGN ADVERTISING

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Greensboro, N. C., October 27.—The executive committee of the Association of Weekly and Semi-Weekly Publishers of North Carolina, in session here this afternoon, decided on uniform rates for all foreign advertising. Another meeting of the committee will be held here in November, on the same date with the printers' cost congress. The following members of the committee were present this afternoon: Chairman W. I. Underwood, of the Greensboro Patriot; Lester Butler, of the Raleigh Caucasian; R. J. Oliver, of the Raleigh Review; D. L. St. Clair, of the Sanford Express; B. H. Depriest, of the Shelby Highlander.

CHICAGO WEDDING STAYED

Bridegroom Arrested Before Ceremony

Chicago, October 27.—Stephen Podwika is half married. In the midst of the ceremony that was to make Katharine Karasta his bride, he was arrested yesterday and dragged to a cell.

The two had exchanged vows and the priest was about to speak the last words when a policeman stepped to the altar and laid his hand on the groom's shoulder.

Podwika, twenty-four years old, some time ago courted Helen Dubitz, and she says, proposed. Then he met Miss Karasta. Miss Dubitz learned he was to be married and swore out a warrant for his arrest on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

SYNOD TO MEET NEXT YEAR IN RICHMOND

Invitation of First Presbyterian Church and Union Theological Seminary Accepted—Aid for Hampden-Sidney Is Asked.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Winchester, Va., October 27.—Rev. J. J. Fix, of Richmond, conducted the services with which the last day's session of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia was opened to-day. One of the first things done was the selection of the time and place for the next meeting. Rev. W. S. Robertson, of Richmond, placed in nomination the First Presbyterian Church of that city, saying that church wanted the synod to come next year because at that time it would celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of its organization. Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary, seconded the nomination, saying the seminary expected to celebrate the centennial of its founding at the same time. He said that three-fourths of all the preachers in the Synod of Virginia and two-thirds of those in the Synod of North Carolina received their education in that institution, and it was the desire of the seminary to have just as many of the alumni present at that time as possible. The invitation to go to Richmond was accepted by a unanimous rising vote. The time fixed was the third Tuesday in October, 1912, but the committee arrangements is authorized to change the date if it be found advisable.

Yesterday two presbyteries were consolidated into one. To-day one was divided into two, so that the number in the synod remains twelve. All that part of the Lexington Presbytery which lies in West Virginia except that in Pendleton county, was cut off to form what will be known as the Presbytery of Tygarts Valley.

The synod appointed Rev. C. W. McDougal as the first moderator and Rev. W. W. Grover as the first clerk.

On motion of Rev. J. R. Graham, D. D., the synod adopted a paper asking the General Assembly to reopen the case of the appeal of Rev. W. I. Sinnott and give him another hearing. This case grew out of an appeal on the part of Mr. Sinnott from a decision of the General Assembly, which was passed upon by the General Assembly, and the synod feels that the decision of that body was not in accordance with Presbyterian law.

Rev. H. T. Graham addressed the synod in behalf of Hampden-Sidney College, of which he is president. He asked the synod to aid in collecting in raising $100,000 to be added to its endowment fund. The synod agreed to do this, as soon as the pledges made to Union Seminary had been paid, but directed its churches to take up a collection for the benefit of the college on the first Sunday in January.

Elected Permanent Clerk.
Rev. J. A. McMurray, of Woodstock, was elected permanent clerk to be the assistant of the stated clerk.

Rev. Ernest Thompson, D. D., and Hon. John A. Preston were elected delegates to the Interchurch Federation of West Virginia, to co-operate with it in "things purely religious and moral," but not in any matters that pertain to civil affairs.

The synod commended Hampden-Sidney College, directed its churches to take up a collection for it on the first Sunday of January and promised others for the manufacture of candy, church's subscriptions for Union Seminary are met, it would add the college in raising an addition to its endowment of $100,000.

A bureau of ministerial supplies was established by the synod. It is composed of the superintendents of home mission work in the various presbyteries of the synod. Its duty will be to aid pastors in securing churches and churches to secure pastors wherever its help can be rendered.

The synod expressed its hearty approval of the action which has placed S. V. Somerville purely and wholly in the assembly's home and school at Fredericksburg.

Memorials were read of the following ministers who have died since the last meeting of the synod: Rev. H. M. White, D. D.; Rev. C. S. Linsamfelter, Rev. Henry Miller, Rev. C. R. Vauhan, D. D.; Rev. J. C. Barr, D. D.; Rev. H. L. Singleton, D. D.; Rev. T. P. Epps, D. D.; Rev. E. B. Druen.

The synod appointed the following trustees of the Orphan's Home at Lynchburg: Rev. E. T. Wolford, D. D., of Newport News; Governor J. H. Claiborne, of Norfolk; and Rev. J. H. Claiborne, of Norfolk.

Work of Sunday Schools.

The report of the committee on Sunday schools was presented and adopted. This report stated that not half of the young people within the bounds of the synod are now in Sunday schools. Of the 2,546 members received into church, 1,217, or nearly one-half, came from the Sunday schools. Attention was called to the need of more trained teachers, and churches are urged to organize teachers' training classes.

Rev. J. J. Fix, of Richmond, in speaking on this subject, said that the Sunday school is so important that Christian people ought to give to it some of their best thought and money. The effort, far more members join the church between the ages of ten and sixteen than during any other period of their life. Seventy-five per cent of the churches are the outgrowth of Sunday school work. It is one of the most important parts of the church's work.

R. E. Magill, of Richmond, spoke also in behalf of the Sunday schools. Among other things, he said: "There is a substantial and rapid growth in the Sunday schools." There are now only 30,000 of these in the Southern presbyteries. He said that the committee of publication is ready to give any help that is needed for the establishing or equipment of mission Sunday schools in all parts of the South.

NEGRO CRIMINAL EXPIATES CRIME

Norval Marshall Pays Death Penalty—Charters Granted by State.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Raleigh, N. C., October 27.—Norval Marshall, colored, yielded up his life in the death chair at the State's prison this morning at 10:30 o'clock, as a penalty for assault upon Mrs. Joseph Chaplin, in Warren county, fourteen miles from Warrenton, on the evening of September 19. There was quite a party of Warren county people here to see the electrocution, among them being Justice of the Peace Waddell and Deputy Sheriff Edward Pecar, who added a hand in the preliminary handling of the criminal. Marshall said nothing whatever to say after he came into the death chamber.

Major W. A. Graham left to-day for New Orleans to attend the conference of the Governors of the Southern States, the Commissioners of Agriculture and others interested in the maintenance of the highest possible price for cotton, called to convene Monday by Governor Colquhoun, of Texas, to see what can be done by concerted action to this end. Governor Kitchin could not go, but has sent assurances of hearty sympathy in the purpose, and desire to do whatever can be done consistently and legally for the maintenance of prices.

The North State Candy Company, of Wilmington, received a charter to-day with $50,000 capital authorized, and $15,000 subscribed, by E. L. Madlin, R. R. Bellamy, A. G. Warren and others for the manufacture of candy for wholesale and retail purposes. There was also a charter for the Greensboro Motor Car Company, Greensboro, capital $25,000 authorized, and $2,000 subscribed, by H. M. Chambliss, W. M. Fowler, W. J. Sherrod and others for automobile agency and garage purposes.

SELL GRIGSBY COLLECTION

Ward of Late Charles T. Yerkes Will Dispose of Art Works.

New York, October 27.—The sale of the art collections of Miss Emily Grigsby, the ward of the late Charles T. Yerkes, who recently returned from abroad with $500,000 worth of jewelry in her possession, will take place early next year at her New York home, on Park Avenue, given her by Mr. Yerkes. Miss Grigsby is soon to leave America, to make her permanent home abroad, and before leaving to dispose of all her properties here. Her residence will probably be in Italy or southern France.

The Grigsby collections of Jades and tapestries are said to rank among the finest in the world. The Park Avenue house, where she lived in seclusion for many years, is one of the notable residences of the older city.

PLANS FOR FAIR ON LARGER SCALE

South Boston, Va., October 27.—The great Halfway fair, endowed with words of praise and crowned with success from start to finish, passed into history to-night. The largest crowds in the history of South Boston have been in attendance during the past three days, being greatly augmented by hundreds of school teachers yesterday and today, who came to attend the teachers' meeting. The weather has been indeed ideal, with a slight shower this afternoon.

A spelling contest, high jumps and foot racing were added to the attractions to-day. Next fall a fair on a much larger scale and more elaborate in national reputation, will be planned, as all parties concerned are so much pleased with the one just closed.

Remarkable Christmas Present

Among the curious Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making. Way last January the present was described and a end of the promise. The present is a three-line Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper in America and send up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this special man.

The history ends just after election, and the 30,000 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 3,000 great sheets of Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,352.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time a large number of people, as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Clipping Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.

There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man, Burdette, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burdette, New York," will reach him.
